Penneylvania's football history, and their include some of the names most famous in coaching should prove a great inspiration to the candidates. Although the present the above men will not be able to be with the team all the season, it is probable that the

In the run home Odom got out all there was in Mr Mackay's filly and she finished with un-imfted power and staying quality. Janice was five lengths in front of Morning Side, that was third, driving, a short head before Lady of the Yalley. This was but one of a series of hard tumbles for the petient talent as enly two favorities were able to land the money. The day was perfect for the sport of Eings and the track was suitable for swift travelling, yet the picking of winners was on the basis of a Chinese puzzle. Slack rode two winners. Outside of Trigger, the other fortunate long shots were Ociawaha, 12 to 1 and Demurrer, 7 to 1. The attendance was dose to 8,000.

The game of losing favorities, so impressively illustrated on Tuesday, was resumed in the first race, a handicap for all ages, the distance being about six furlongs. The Musketeer, with Spencer having the leg up. was the first choice, being played down from threes to 5 to 5. August Belmont's Kilogram caught much support when he opened at 10 to 1, his price closing three points less. Demurrer, Dublin, All Gold and The Regent sere all fancied, though not enough to chop prices quoted against them. Demurrer from flag to wire and won in a gallop by three lengths. All Gold was well up all the prices quoted against them. Demurrer led from flag to wire and won in a gallop by three lengths. All Gold was well up all the way and finished second, a length in front of Dublin, that beat Hi mself by a head. The favorite was second at the head of the stretch, but finished fifth.

Again, in the second race for beaten three-year-olds and upward, at a mile and a furlong, the favorite did not win. Lucky Star was the most fancied, going to the post at 12 to 5. Knight of the Garter was second choice at 5 to 2 with Thomas Hitchcook. Jr. s. Nones, by Sir Dixon—Amy Davenport, ridden by J. Slack, third in demand and well backed at 7 to 2. C. W. Baird's Arden, with Brien, a diminutive colored boy, up, was the rank outsider, but he came near making a peck of trouble. After running away a mile the colt got off in front of his field at the flag fail and gradually increased his lead until he was six lengths in front of Double Dummy, $ to 1, and Nones, heads apart, at the turn. When straightened out Arden, because of his runnway, began to tire, but he was game enough to fight it out with Nones and Double Dummy when they caught him opposite the betting ring. Nones had enough running left to win cleverly by a length and a haif. Double Dummy taking place money by half a length from Arden. Lucky Star, never prominent, was four lengths back. The time, 134-6, was not far behind the track record.

There was much rejoicing when the favorite Evelyn Maud, by Hanover—Sultaness, ran away with the third event for maiden two-year-olds at five furlongs. There were fourteen starters, of which Evelyn Maud was so greatly in demand that she was pounded from 5 to 2 to 8 to 5. Leenja, by Hastings—St. Priscilla, was second selection at threes, yet she was unequal to the task, though at one period well up with the advance guard. Thomas Hitchcock, Jr.'s, Bossignol was thought to be a cinch for the place by many and was reduced rapidly in price. The start was not exactly good. The favorite got away flying and inside of the first furlong she open was 1.02 3-5.

The fifth race for beaten two-year-olds at five furiongs provided still another pittall for the talent. There was a wild rush to play Honolulu and Rightaway, first and second choices quoted at 6 to 5 and 2 to 1, respectively. Exceedingly wise persons nailed 20 to 1 against Oclawaha, the lavers soon rubbing the odds to tweives. Oclawaha lost no time in showing the way, but he had the hardsest kind of a race before him. Man o' War, 16 to 1, ran almost upon even terins with him to the turn, where the pair were two lengths ahead of Honolulu. In the stretch, Rightaway moved up and was apparently bumped by both Oclahawa and Honolulu. Smith went to the whip and succeeded in keeping Oclawaha in front clear to the wire, where he beat Rightaway by a head, with Honolulu a length and a half behind. With Nones and Sadie S. scratched from the last race, at a mile and 70 yards, Senator P. H. McCarrer's Alfonso was made a 3 to 5 favorite. The only other horse thought to have a chance was Dr. Preston, that closed at threes. ren's Alfonso was made a 3 to 5 favorite. The only other horse thought to have a chance was Dr. Preston, that closed at threes. They simply ran away from the others until they had lengthered the gap to fifteen lengths at the turn, where Alfonso drew away and won easily by a length and a half. Dr. Preston was a dozen lengths better than Isaac Hopper. The summaries:

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—Last night's storm rendered the track sticky and alow. The weather was suitry and threatening, yet there was a good attendance at the Fair Grounds. Bundles of money were burned up on the second and fourth events. In the former. Callear, the fayorite at 11 to 10, made a sorry showing. After the fayorite still to 10, made a sorry showing. After the face was run, this was accounted for by the face that the horse bled badly during the race. Notieman, in the fourth, was heavily played at 10 2, and ran a horrible race, being poorly ridden. Owing to the poor showing made by Celite Bard, further entries of the horse have been barred. Horseshoe Tohacco was sold to Slaughter & Co. for $650. Summary:

the Score a Tie-Pirates Make It Three Straight From the Quakers-Rain Spoils Several Contests - Results Elsewhere. For five innings at St. Louis yesterday it looked as if Pitcher Mathewson would be able to repeat the Cresar message that he came, saw and conquered, but the Cardinals seem to be his hoodoo. He pitched his usual effective game yesterday, but the home team also had a first-class young blood in the box. namely, Harper, who held the New Yorks down to as few hits as St. Louis made off Mathewson. The New Yorks were beaten by one run. The Cincinnati-Brooklyn game Springs, 0.

BROOKLYN, I: GINCINNATI, I.

CINCINNATI, June 5.—The last game Rusie tried to pitch it rained, and to-day Amos received another trial and it rained during the greater part of the contest, with much thunder, lightning and darkness, which latter stopped the game in eight innings, leaving the score a tie. Rusie showed something of his old-time speed and managed to keep the hits souttered. He was cheered at the end of each inning as he left the box. Brooklyn bunched four hits in the third, but the muddy going and a good throw by Crawford nipping McGuire at second, allowed but one run to score. This was the fruit of Kitson's double and singles by Kelley and Reeter. Magoon tied the score in the fourth by driving in Crawford from second with a slashing double to centre. Cincinnati had good chances to score in the sixth and seventh, but Kitson was invincible at the crucial moment. Sheckard posed as a very banitent young man to-day after yesterday's disgraceful scene, and said: "I'm through. Not a word will any body get out of me."

Ned Hanlon said: "Why, if a player had spit in my face I'm afraid I would have tried to brein him with a bat. Cunningham deserves credit for coolness in a most trying moment, when a little spark might have kindled a riot." Sheckard was hissed and hooted by the spectators. The score.

INDIGNATION AMONG GOLFERS

Provoked by Charges of Professionalism

Against Travis and Lockwood. All the topics that usually provoke talk in golfing circles gave way yesterday to comments on certain charges made in the June issue of Outing, in the department "The Sportsman's Viewpoint," affecting the amateur standing of Walter J. Travis and Arthur G. Lockwood. The trend of the comment is best shown by the opinion of R. H. Robertson, President of the U.S. G. A.

"I regard the remarks as outrageous and utterly lacking in truth; a sort of anonymous attack that should be discouraged among gentlemen. No potice will be taken of the will bring the proofs to back any charge he will have a full hearing; and certainly if any player's entry is to be challenged at the amateur championship, something more than The publication is a most ungracious way of approaching the question, for even if true it is treading on delicate ground, and the matter should have been handled in quite another way. A conviction should not precede the trial 1 am thoroughly conversant with the details of Travis's trip South last winter. I details of Travis's trip South last winter. I know that he did not play at all in tournaments there and that nothing occurred to give any color to any of the statements in the Outing article."

The following is the gist of the article:

seats be given them at all the games, big or little.

Discussing the suggested changes in the football rules, as printed in The StN the other day, a football expert yesterday said.

Trather expect to see the value of the drop-kick reduced, but not as low as three points. Four points strikes me as being about the right valuation, as the drop-kick is not worth as much as a touchdown. I don't see why there should be any desire todo away with allowing one point for the goal from touchdown. If this were done it would mean that that feature of the game would be abolished and it is rather a pretty play, one which the spectators emoy, though it does not stand for much team skill. I see that it is reckoned opposition will be made by Yale and Pennsylvania to the proposed change, requiring six men to stay in line until the ball is snapped back. This would interfere some with the gnards-back but not so much as night be thought. It would still be an effective play with only one guard to drop back. The strength taken from the assault back of the line would be made up for in a measure in the additional protection it would get in the line. As lor Vale's tackle-back formation it would natter little as it frequently was used by Yale last year with only one tackle back of the line. But one thing you can bear in mind, that whatever changes are recommended by the Rules Committee will be for the good of the game. The following is the gist of the article:

"So the fine sentiments and the sportsmanly assurances of Mr. Robertson, at his inauguration as President of the United States Golf Association, were only 'talk'." What a pity, tool because he had such an opportunity of dealing a mortal blow to the evil which at present menaces the game most seriously. Certainly the President and his faccutive Committee, Mesers, John Reid, H. C. Chatfield Taylor, R. B. Kerr, S. Y. Heebner, James A. Stilliman and G. H. Windeler cannot offer ignorance in eacuse for their negligence, for their attention has repeatedly been called by Outing to the playing for free board and transportation golfer. Frankly, the President and the Executive Committee of the U.S. G. A. have been false to their duty and to their promises to keep golf clear of this semi-professionalism. As they were not lacking information of ofence against the chios of the game, we must conclude them denient in either courage or in sympathy with clean wholesome sport.

"Herwith I challenge the right of entry to all amateur golf tournaments of Walter J. Tratis, New York, who won the amateur championship of America at Garden City, L. I. Last July, and of A. G. Lockwood, Beston, who reached the semi-finals of that tournament. The conduct of Mesers. Travis and Lockwood in receiving free hotel board and railroad transportation this spring, during a Florida guiding comparign, makes them obviously ineligible to rank as amateurs. By the rules of every amateur game, including golf, they are professionals, for if they did not receive money for their services as touring hotel billboards, they did receive its equivalent in several hundred didners worth of board and lodging and railroad fare.

Garden City and Dyker Meadow, and van Tassell Sutphen, editor of Golf, to go down on his private car for a visit. The party broke up after two days at Belleair, and Travis went on to Tampa Bay, starting back for New York before the end of the week As I have said, Travis did not play in any tournaments, hotel or otherwise.

"Lockwood is editor of Golf and Laurn Tennis and travelled through the West Coast to gain material for some articles. He did not want to play in the tournaments, and, after one or two, he withdrew from them altogether. All were handleaps and Lockwood was at plus 14, so that he found little fun in the contests.

The Outing article has been written by some person who was not in Florida. The results of the tournaments in the North since April show that there were many in Florida who were not duffers.

Mr Dick dismissed the story that his hotel entertained the two amateurs very decidedly. Both Travis and Lockwood gave metheir checks for their board, at the special rate I make for all amateur golfers. There were no golfers stopping free at my hotel except the professional in charge of the links and it was in his contract that I should board him.

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN Valuable Map of All Sidepaths in the State

Issued by L. A. W. At last, after many delays, there is in existence a map showing all the sidepaths now In use and those proposed in New York State It is published by the League of American Wheelmen and is being sent out to its members gratts. To others the price is $2, the cost it is being sent out in envelopes on which is printed in display: "Your friend at your elbow -If he or she would like a tour book, ask him or her to join the L. A. W." The tour book is the regular one that pretty thoroughly covers New York and New Jersey. The sidepath map is about the most valuable publication the League ever has issued.

It shows in unmistakable detail where tourists can go and remain on cycle paths. Hundreds of miles of paths are portrayed. Between Albany and Buffalo there is a chain that is Albany and Buffalo there is a chain that is almost unbroken. The lower counties of New York State are shown to be wofully deficient in paths, but the cycle ways of Long Island are so numerous and diverse that in Suffolk county the diagram of them resembles network To any one who tours awheel in this State in summer time, the map is practically indispensable. On the back of it is printed in descriptive detail the "best route" and the "shortest route" from New York to Buffalo, one by way of Albany and the other by way of the Delaware Water Gap. The map is the first one of the hind ever published and is a credit to the new York State Division of the venerable organization.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Good Roads Association of Brooklyn held on Monday night it was decided to hold no more meetings, unless specially called, until September. The reason for this was revealed in a long discussion of the conditions now existing in the borough. According to statements made-by President A. H. Angell there is no hope of achieving anything in the line of highway improvement in Brooklyn, beyond what has already been laid out, this year. After Jan 1, 1902, when the new Charter will be in operation and the borough officers will have more power, there will be much to be done. The resignation of T. Jeff Stevens as Treasurer was accepted, and E. W. Mersereau was appointed to complete the unexpired term.
